

After taking over as Chief Election Commissioner

Handing over 2019 Lok Sabha election results to President Ram Nath Kovind

Sunil Arora - A Man with Mission & Vision

Dr. Ravi Chaturvedi

"No is a word that finds no place in his dictionary. There is no 'will try' as well. Whenever an opportunity came Sunil Arora's way, he knew it was 'Do it,' for him. There was no running away from challenges for him. When he got into thick of things, he just went ahead with conviction and delivered. His has been a long and arduous journey to the podium. With his sound academic grinding in English literature, it was natural for him to enter the teaching profession. It was like a 'fish taking to water'. However, bigger opportunities awaited him when he qualified for the elite national administrative service. After a long tenure of 38 years of service where his contribution was commendable across varied canvas, he called it a day in 2016. He was appointed Chief Election Commissioner in 2018 to handle a very challenging and difficult assignment of overseeing the 2019 Lok Sabha elections followed by polls for the assemblies in Sikkim, Andhra Pradesh, Arunachal Pradesh, Odisha, Maharashtra, Haryana, Delhi, Bihar and Jammu & Kashmir. After assuming charge as CEC, while addressing the staff of the Commission, he said, "All of us in the Commission shall continue to put our best foot forward to meet the expectations of all the stakeholders, strictly in consonance and in conformity with the visions and ideals of the Constitution of India, especially the Preamble." A man, known for fair play, he sought the cooperation of all political parties and people to make elections "totally free, fair and ethical." In the recent Lok Sabha election, under his tutelage the commission launched a countrywide campaign urging people to vote. The move was commendable by one and all. The opposition parties made a lot of hue and cry before and even after the declaration of Lok Sabha election results and submitted numerous unreasonable petitions during the election process. Nevertheless, he did not give in to their spurious demands, instead followed the norms laid down in the constitution.

He surely was a man with the Midas touch with a mission and vision in his approach in various assignments entrusted to him during his nearly four decades of administrative service career. The author had an opportunity to watch him functioning closely as Chairman and Managing Director (2002-2005) of erstwhile domestic carrier Indian Airlines, turning it into an operating profit organization despite severe capacity constraints making optimum utilisation of available aircraft resources. In fact, his joining the Ministry of Civil Aviation (MCA) as a Joint Secretary was a precursor to the testing times he was going to face. However, he faced the odds with resilience. He was the MCA's coordinator during the infamous 1999 Kandhar hijack of IC 814. His astute handling and coordinating the activities among the various concerned agencies including press briefings was widely appreciated. He joined Indian Airlines as officiating CMD in May 2000 and was appointed full time CMD for a three-year term in June 2002. He also acted as part time Chairman of Air India for some time. After he relinquished charge, the move to merge

Air India and Indian Airlines proved disastrous. It was the blackest day in the annals of the national civil aviation industry. His other plum postings were Secretary, Ministry of Information & Broadcasting; Secretary, Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship; Member, Board of Directors of Air India, the Airports Authority of India Limited and the National Skill Development Corporation; Director General and Chief Executive Officer of the Indian Institute of Corporate Affairs. As an official of Rajasthan cadre, he was eye and ear of Chief Minister Bhairon Singh Shekhawat and later served as principal secretary (2005-2008) to Chief Minister Vasundhara Raje. Despite being a workaholic, he has kept eye for details. His busy schedule keeps him on his toes, he still finds time for his philanthropic activities and loves helping people. The journey of Sunil Arora's life is full of agony and hardship. After more than three decades of active association with administration, he subscribes to the adage, "Today's pain is tomorrow's power. The more you suffer today, the stronger you are tomorrow."

RBI Governor promises adequate liquidity

New Delhi, Sept 16: RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das today assured the industry that the central bank will take all necessary measures to ensure liquidity in the system and promote economic growth. Indian economy contracted 23.9 per cent in the first quarter of the current financial year. He also mentioned that the latest data suggests some stabilization in economic activities in the second quarter of this fiscal.

Addressing a virtual conference organised by industry body Ficci, Das said that Gross Domestic Product (GDP) data released by the government was a "reflection of the ravages of the COVID-19". Observing that the economic recovery was not yet fully entrenched, the RBI Governor said recovery is likely to be gradual. "The recovery is, however, not yet fully entrenched and more over in some sectors the optics which was noticed in June and July, they appear to have levelled off... by all indications, the recovery is likely to be gradual as efforts towards reopening of the economy are confronted

Five key focus areas

RBI will focus on five key areas to assist a revival of the economy in the coming few months, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said. "There are five key areas that I propose to focus on that I think will determine stability and step up India's growth in the medium term. First is human capital with specific emphasis on education and health; second is productivity; exports which is leading to India's role in the global value chain; fourth tourism; food processing associated productivity areas," said Das.

The Governor also assured the industry that "RBI is battle ready... Further, he asked whatever measures are required will be taken by the RBI" to help the industry and businesses to come out of the COVID-19-induced crisis. Further, he asked businesses to capitalise on the new opportunities created by the pandemic at the global level.
